REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE PRESBYTERIAN HOSPITAL

---

To the Members of the Society, the Churches, and All Our Other Friends:

The history of the Hospital for the past year has been satisfactory.

It was a great disappointment that our new building, the "Jane Murdoch Memorial," which at the time of the last annual report was expected to be completed by September last, was delayed seven months. The factional strife between two steam-fitters' unions prevented work of both plumbers and steam-fitters, and stopped the other trades. When work was finally allowed to proceed, the cold winter was at hand and the difficulty of heating the building caused delay, which was only remedied finally by a considerable increase of expense. This delay was not only a great annoyance, but it also made the administration more difficult and more expensive. For a considerable time there was no communication with Rush Medical College, and therefore, no way of holding clinics there as usual. Yet, notwithstanding these difficulties and drawbacks, our work has been done, clinics have been held, the standard of service has not been allowed to deteriorate, and our charity work has been but slightly reduced.

If I had been asked a year since if the Hospital could be carried on another year without a deficit, in case our new building was not completed, my answer would probably have been that it would be an extremely difficult undertaking. But, on account of the service of the Private Pavilion, which has steadily increased, our revenues have kept pace with our augmented expenses and the year closed with a small balance on the right side of the account.

It is also very gratifying to note that the balance of indebtedness of $50,000.00, contracted three years since, to complete the power house, has been paid, without the use of any funds left by bequest or given to the Hospital.

These gratifying results, notwithstanding difficulties, are due to the hearty co-operation of the staff, of Internes and Nurses, who have suffered much personal inconvenience, of the office force, and of all employees. There has been a hearty spirit of loyalty, and desire to make the best of the situation and minimize the difficulties, and help each other. To all our thanks are due and gratefully rendered.

The relative increased cost of administering the Hospital, which has been noted yearly for several years, has shown no diminution. The advance in medical standards which requires facilities and methods not thought of a short while since; the increase of surgical cases brought about by improved asepsis and technique, causes a steadily-increased expense yearly, and will continue to do so. And both require a larger number of attendants and appliances. There is no room for economy in efforts to provide the best that medical and surgical science offers, without materially reducing the effective work of the Hospital in both preventing and curing disease.

Before the first of May the new building will be in full operation and the Hospital plant will be completed.

All of our buildings are fire-proof and equipped with all modern appliances.

The new building, due to the generosity of the late Mr. Thos. Murdoch, and called the "Jane Murdoch Memorial," in memory of his sister, occupies the site of the first one which the Hospital owned, and where its work was commenced. This was called the Ross Building in honor of Dr. J. P. Ross, who was a prominent factor in starting the Hospital. Later another building was added, named in honor of Dr. R. C. Hamill, who was also a warm friend and supporter. The two were called the "Ross-Hamill Wing." While the buildings themselves have outlived their usefulness, and have given place to another, which is far superior to any that was conceived when they were built, the gratitude of all friends of the Hospital will long survive, and the memory of these men who did so much in the early and struggling years of the Hospital will continue to be revered.

For three years I have mentioned the need of a new Home for our Training School. This need can no longer be ignored and plans are being prepared for a new building capable of housing 150 nurses, with class rooms, parlors and library. It will be of fire-proof construction and it is intended to be as home-like as possible in its arrangement. The frontage on Congress street, facing the Hospital on the north (with the exception of one lot, the owner of which is holding it at a prohibitive price), has been purchased. Only a portion of the property will be needed for the Home, but it was deemed advisable to take the rest as a protection. The houses standing on the portion not used, will be rented, and the income will be a good rate of interest on the money invested.

The requirements for a Home of the capacity mentioned, necessitates a large building and it is estimated that its cost together with the land will amount to $350,000.00. Towards this amount we have but $100,000.00, given by the friends of the late O. S. A. Sprague, as a memorial for him, to be used in "building a Nurses' Home for the Presbyterian Hospital." An indebtedness of $250,000.00 must, therefore, be incurred. Naturally, the Board of Managers hesitated in undertaking it. But after months of consideration, during which every side of the situation was carefully investigated, it was evident that it must be done, or the Hospital and its Training School be seriously handicapped.

Our present Home is overcrowded. Fifteen of our nurses have roomed in the Hospital for two years, occupying rooms in the Private Pavilion, which are much needed for our patients, the loss of which the past four months has cost the Hospital at least $5,000.00, besides being a disadvantage to our staff, who could not care for patients that came to them.

To administer the Hospital we must have nurses. To secure nurses we must be able to care for them suitably. That is the situation in a nutshell. Therefore, we accept the responsibility and proceed with the work.

Dr. William H. Welsh, noted pathologist of the Johns Hopkins University, is authority for the statement that the development of modern surgery and hygiene, of which hospital nursing is an important factor, has reduced the death rate in New York City since 1866 from 35 per 1,000 to less than 16, and 12 years have been added to the expectation of life.

The Hospital is essentially a teaching Hospital. Affiliated with Rush Medical College, it is the center of the best medical teaching of the West. The O. S. A. Sprague foundation will have 20 free beds, to be increased later, for the study of different diseases, their prevention and cure.

The Memorial Institute for Infectious Diseases, founded by Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. McCormick, will operate the Durand Memorial for Contagious Diseases and will co-operate with us.

Our laboratory and X-ray equipment in our new building will be second to none. Surely here is a work which must not be handicapped by insufficient facilities anywhere.

What this Hospital has done in the past, what it is doing to-day, what it has the promise of accomplishing in the future, for the poor, the sick, and the advancement of medical and surgical knowledge, warrants us in going forward resolutely and taking up what is necessary, in the confident belief that our friends will in the future, as in the past, hold up our hands, and help us do our full duty to this community and the world at large.

ALBERT M. DAY, President.

Mr. President and Members of the Board of Managers:

It is my privilege to present the ninth annual report of the School for Nurses:

During the year the average number of nurses in the School has been 123, distributed as follows:

For general executive, for teaching and for day and night supervision of the Hospital:

Graduate Nurses .....	6
In the Jones Building.....	44
Graduate head nurses.....	3
Pupil nurses .....	41
In the Private Pavilion.....	26
Graduate head nurses.....	2
Pupil nurses .....	24
In the operating and examining rooms.....	13
Graduate head nurses .....	3
Pupil nurses .....	10
In the Central Free Dispensary.....	1
Graduate nurse .....	1
In the Preliminary Department.....	19
Pupil nurses .....	19
On special duty.....	2
In other hospitals, on vacation, ill, or off duty for other causes.....	12
	123

There have been 723 days of illness among the pupils, an average of 6 to the individual nurse; 1,343 days of nursing were spent in the Children's Memorial Hospital and 922 days on special duty; 713 calls were made by pupil nurses to maternity patients in their own homes.

The Registry has sent 248 graduate nurses to private homes and has provided an average of 24 graduate nurses with employment in the Hospital—these last accomplishing 8,539 days' special duty nursing.

Twenty-five nurses were granted diplomas by the school on April 18, 1911, making a total of 117 graduates up to April 1, 1912.

After eight years' trial of a course of training extending over three and a half years, it has been decided to return to the original three-year term, it being believed that the additional six months has not proved sufficiently essential to warrant its retention. The Alumnae Association was requested to give an opinion on the length of training; and voted that it be shortened to three years. The change will go into operation with the class entering September, 1912.

Now that the new Home is a matter of early realization there remains the one urgent necessity of endowment for the school. Such an endowment should be large enough to provide instructors and supervisors in sufficient numbers; such teaching equipment as may be needed and in addition will allow, upon necessity, the enlargement of the nursing staff to such an extent that the continually increasing work of the Hospital will be satisfactorily accomplished without depriving the nursing department of its educational function and without working hardship upon the pupils of the school.

As usual at the end of the year we have to look back upon much assistance in carrying on the instruction of our pupils and much kind consideration from the friends of the institution. To each one of these we return most grateful consideration.

Respectfully submitted.

M. H. McMILLAN,

Superintendent of nurses and Principal of the school.

The annual entertainment was held Saturday evening, December 23, at 7 o'clock. It was opened with prayer by the chaplain, the Rev. F. M. Barr, and the hymn, "Joy to the World," sung by a choir of nurses. Mr. W. S. Hitchcock, a character impersonator of unusual ability, delighted all with his numerous roles. A colored quartet, accompanying their singing with cello, guitar and mandolin, gave many popular and pleasing songs. A generous Christmas dinner was provided at an estimated cost of $150, a part of which was donated, and the balance paid through the treasury of the Woman's Board.

MRS. W. B. MARTIN, Chairman.
